DALLAS CINCHES
TEXAS LEAGUE
PENNANT

Season Closes With Double Games—League Advances to Class B.

(By Horace H. Shelton.)

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 5.—The Texas league baseball season closes this afternoon, double headers being played in all of the cities where games are scheduled.

There is practically no doubt but that Dallas is the pennant winner. Houston looked good until that team hit San Antonio. The Bronchos went after them in such a manful fashion that Hunter Hill saw his pennant hopes go glimmering.

The team winning the pennant deserved to be cheered with honor for all of the teams were "musically strong this season. Up until the very last game the results were in doubt.

Maloney has done splendid work with the Dallas team. The organization, about two months ago, took a awful slump and was for a time fighting for tail end honors. He got the players out of the slough of despondency and has been slowly climbing towards the top ever since.

There has been little to mar the success of the season. The only ugly feature was the charge of bribery in connection with the Houston team. These will be thoroughly investigated and those guilty will be punished.

There has been but one weak team in the league, Waco. As individual players, that team ranked high. Had there been the right kind of team work this aggregation would have been a pennant winner.

Galveston made a good showing at the first of the season but the heat was too trying on the men and a slump followed. Oklahoma City, despite the fact the players often had to wait for their salaries, played good ball all the way through. The sport of Dale Grier's Shreveport Pirates during the final three weeks was one of the best features of the entire season.

Next year the teams will be much the same as they were during the present season. The number of men going to the bigger leagues was not sufficient to materially weaken any of the organizations.

The Texas League has now been advanced to class B. This will give it the privilege of drafting from a large number of minor organizations, especially class C, in which class the Texas league has been heretofore.

All of the teams will put scouts on the road at once. They will visit with many of the class C leagues before they disband and will in that way be enabled to get a line on some good young material. The minor leagues of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and other states will be looked over.

Waco has already had a scout in the field for several weeks and a number of men added to that team. It promises to be stronger next year.

Franchises May Change Owners.
The only feature of uncertainty is what cities will compose the league next year. It looks certain Oklahoma will be dropped. This will let in Austin or Beaumont. If Shreveport goes out both of these Texas cities can come in.

President Wilbur P. Allen will retire. There will be a considerable scramble for his place. With the exception of Brooks Gordon, who is owned by Houston, the managers of the Texas league teams will be the next year as they were this.

Now being obtained. If all our farmers could be educated to the same point, 25 bushels of wheat would be only a fair crop.

"Of all forage fed to live stock, at least one-third in cash value remains on the land in the form of manure that will aid in restoring exhausted land to fertility and maintain good land at its highest productive point."

"BILL" LANG TO MEET

"AL" KAUFMAN IN FIGHT

Pugilistic Contest To Be Settled in a Big Ball Park at Philadelphia—May Have Hearing on Championship.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 5.—Followers of the pugilistic game in this country will tonight have an opportunity of getting a line on "Bill" Lang, the Australian, who with "Al" Kaufman, of California, aspires to be the heavyweight champion of the world.

The two big fighters meet in a six round bout at the National League ball grounds. Both are said to be in excellent condition.

BIG GATHERING

OF CATHOLICS

Catholic church from various parts of the world.

The following evening there will be a grand civic reception at city hall in honor of the cardinal legate.

At midnight, on Tuesday, fully 15,000 people are expected to assemble within the walls of Notre Dame, the largest Catholic edifice in America, to attend midnight mass, in the presence of the papal envoy and the visiting ecclesiastics.

The entire congregation will receive communion, which will be administered by a hundred priests, who will begin their pious labor simultaneously with the ringing of the service. Cardinal Gibbons will deliver the sermon on this occasion. The delegates will be welcomed to the church by the noted Sulpician, the Rev. N. A. Trole, S. S. D. D., who is the rector.

Spectacular Mass.
One of the greatest spectacles in connective with the congress will be the pontifical mass to be sung in the open air at Mount Royal park on Friday, September 9, at 8:30 o'clock.

The grandest feature of the work, however, will be the procession of the Blessed Sacrament, which will take place next Sunday. As the procession leaves the church of Notre Dame, the bells of the city churches will be rung in honor of the Host as it will be borne by the papal legate through the city streets under a gorgeous canopy.

The route will be magnificently decorated. Forty triumphal arches will span the streets at leading points. There will be a band of the Royal Sixty-fifth regiment will head the line, discoursing the inspiring music of "O Salutaris Nati."

Right behind the military band will come 250 members of the Catholic club of New York city, marching 12 abreast as guard of honor to the cardinal legate.

Over 250 Marquis Prelates.
Next in line will be upward of 250 prelates of the church, all vested in their scarlet or purple robes of office. There will be three cardinals, Gibbons of Baltimore, Logus of Armagh, and Vannutelli of Rome. The long line of bishops and archbishops will include one from Belgium, two from England, one from France, four from Mexico, four from South America. It is expected that every diocese in the United States and Canada will be represented by a prelate. There will be thousands of priests in the procession, the secular clergy in black cassock and white surplice. The priests of the various monastic orders in their habits of white, brown, black or gray will add a great variety of color to the scene.

To the music of scores of bands, alternating with the singing of hymns in honor of the Blessed Sacrament by the members of the Catholic societies of Montreal and Quebec, the procession will wind its way to historical Mount Royal, from which the city takes its name. Here, in Manse Park, which is at the base of the mountains, a great altar will be erected upon which solemn pontifical mass will be offered by archbishop Sbarretti, papal delegate to Canada. The sermon will be preached by the most reverend William H. O'Connell, archbishop of Boston.

3000 Voices to Sing Mass.
The music of the mass will be rendered by a chorus of 3000 voices, accompanied by the band of the Sixty-fifth regiment.

More than 100,000 people will kneel on the mountain slopes and in the park and with bowed heads do homage to the Blessed Eucharist as it is raised above them at the moment of consecration in the pontifical mass and in the solemn service of benediction, which is to follow the mass.

Cardinal Gibbons will preach the sermon at midnight mass in the church of
